Fashions and Fads

By ELEANOR GRESHAM

Number one in everyone's mind nowadays is the new gust of spirit which has engulfed the UTMB campus, and everyone is especially proud of the enthusiasm of the cheering section, both at pep rallies and ball games, and even at pre-game parades. Just as the student body has "something to cheer about" in their hard-hitting winning team, there are numerous girls in the new women's dorm, Delta Kappa, who likewise have "something to cheer about" when it comes to Fashions and Fads.

"We've Got a Team" is brought to mind by the co-ordinated "dyed-to-match" skirt and sweater sets still very popular this year, for they seem "teamed" to a "T". Jane Ann Greeson chose interest in the front for her slim skirt of wool which is matched by a sweater set of Ban-Lon, and they're both in red. Three darts on each side are tailored to tie in with the three tucks which run from the waist to the hemline, being released near the bottom with pleats. Her Ban-Lon sweaters, something every gal would love to own, are full-fashioned and feature the new shoulder-line which angles off toward the back at the sleeveless.

A different angle in matching sets is Fay Cole's, which gives an idea that she could as easily "cheer" the Navy as the VOLS. Her slim wool skirt is topped by a wool jersey middie blouse, featuring the elasticized waist tied at the left side with a string bow. The cut-in-one three-quarter length sleeves are banded with self fabric with a quilted effect, which co-ordinates them with the stand-up convertible-type collar also in the quilted fabric. The four large tinted-to-match pearl buttons arranged to create a double-breasted effect complete the nautical theme.

And also there are vibrant colors as full of life as our campus is full of spirit, and that's just what Frankie Wright selected for her dyed-to-match set—bright kelly green. Although green brings "frosh" to mind, this sophomore shows that green isn't "taboo" for upperclassmen. Her slim skirt features two darts on each side in the front, similar to Jane Ann's, and two tucks stitched down the center front. Back interest is added by a double pleat in the back, and both sweaters of her matching sweater set are full-fashioned in the classic design. These three are only a minute representation of lucky misses who can proudly say, "We've Got a T-E-A-M. That's on the B-E-A-M!"

Just as the above gals could spell out some yells, there's another group on campus that remind one of such yells as "Give Me a 'U'" and "V-O-L-S," and they're the ones who are sporting monograms, a rising feature this year. This personalized touch is taking the form of monograms in both elaborate and tailored designs. Ann Coltraine really outdid herself in embroidering a real fancy "A" "C" initial set in white satinized thread which extends from the waistline to the hemline on the left side of her black cotton dress, featuring an empire waistline and full eight-gored princess style skirt. The fitted bodice is finished with a bateau neckline, still good this year with modifications also, and the cut-in-one sleeves are short. The dramatic effect of white on black shows lots of ingenuity on Ann's part.

Miss Giles reversed the combination by having a black three letter monogram on the pocket of her white damron and cotton blouse. The tailored letters are tapered on each side creating an interesting effect for the blouse styled with a convertible collar and roll-up sleeves. It seems a job as "cheering" coach for any team would come natural in this tailored blouse.

The interest is on the sleeves with Barbara Brooks, for her three-letter monogram is on the tab which holds the roll-up sleeves of her blue monochromatic striped shirtwaist dress in place. Tabs on both sleeves are buttoned with regular shirt-type buttons, which also march up the bodice front from the waistline, cinched by a self-fabric belt, to the neckline featuring a convertible collar. A hidden convenience of the softly pleated skirts is set-in pockets. We could approximately say "three cheers" for three of many who are helping to bring back the ABC's to UTMB!

And Miss Giles' and Miss Brooks' sleeves also present a popular new fashion this year—the roll-up—most of which are rolled to just above the elbows. They allow lots of arm movement for doing yells like "Seven, Come Eleven" (!) or just "Seven, Come Eleven" (!) or just "Seven, Come Eleven" (!). Representative of many who are enjoying roll-up sleeves, which also bring in the nautical look, are two sisters, Sandra and Ronda Roush, junior and freshman, respectively. Sandra's selection of a shirtwaist dress with roll-up sleeves seems quite a wise one, and she looks real pert for class in her dark cotton stripe of chartruese, blue, and black with accents of pink. The bodice is a real shirt-looking affair with back interest created by a yoke at the shoulders and a bloused effect presented by the large pleat in the center back to the waistline. Marching from the waist to the shirt-type collar in front are tiny gold buttons, and the self belt drawing in the softly pleated skirt also features a gold buckle.

A self belt is also a feature which Ronda wears, only this belt cut on the bias matches a blouse of green, red, and gold plaid. Belts to match blouses are the thing this year, and show planned coordination. "Ronnie's" blouse, with roll-up sleeves buttons to the neckline finished with a pointed collar and has an added attraction of a shaped flap attached sideways instead of the usual up and down. Smoke pearl buttons blend nicely with the fabric and style of the blouse. Ronda and Sandra, as well as many other smart co-eds, are all set to "Lean to the Left, Lean to the Right," and do lots of other activities in their garments with roll-up sleeves.

"Is Everybody Happy?" Well, what do you think, with so many radiant gals in red. It seems everyone's "Ready" in red—this year's top fashion color. Ann Usery chose red wool for her sheath dress of red which is typical also of the new look in necklines—stand-away. The neckline is a modified scoop—rounded in front and slightly dipping to a "V" in the back. Three-quarter length cut-in-one sleeves finish the fitted bodice, and a self-belt tops the skirt which has a novel pleat in the center back. Black accessories are very striking with this red affair.

And just as radiant looking is Kay Odom, who selected wool jersey for her sheath which also features a rounded neckline and three-quarter length sleeves, this time set-in. Soft pleats released from a two inch band at the neckline in front give a softened, feminine effect to the fitted bodice, and the slim skirt has a kick pleat in the back and also has concealed set-in pockets. Kay's contour belt, still a popular style belt, is designed to add a touch of the latest fad—furs in the form of leopard. A gold ring on the side securely holds a silk scarf of leopard. Ann and Kay, like many, seem evidences of "any color's good, so long as it's red!" Bright red seems to be a real indication of the bright spirit taking the UTMB campus, not only in the spirit of the team supporters but in the spirit of all the co-eds who seem more eager than ever to be wearing the latest Fashions and Fads!

Wesley Foundation Expects Fine Year

The first activities of the Wesley Foundation, Methodist student group, have been very successful and give assurance that through increased student attendance and participation this year will be a memorable one in the history of its development. The Wesley Foundation aims toward enriching the spiritual life of students through worship and study, and to help the student become well-rounded socially by fellowship and recreational activities. Its program consists of Sunday and Wednesday night meetings.

Methodist and Methodist preference students attend Sunday morning and night services at the First Methodist Church in Martin. Acting as the new Director of Wesley Foundation is Rev. Brady Whitehead, Jr.

The new Wesley Foundation building on Lovelace Avenue certainly provides an inspirational atmosphere for fulfilling these aims. Its facilities include a well equipped kitchenette, a workroom, and office which also contains a well-stocked library of religious literature. A large recreation area faces an inviting and comfortable lounge for students to spend their leisure hours. Deserving special recognition is the lovely chapel which remains open during the day where students may find solitude and personal communion with God.

Presbyterians Form College Group Here

A fellowship group for all Presbyterian faiths has been organized for the first time on the UTMB campus. Until this year there had been no active group for the Presbyterian students. This year's interest seemed to warrant the organization of such a group to meet each Sunday night at the Cumberland Presbyterian Church for a fellowship hour.

At the first meeting of the new group officers were elected for this term. Serving as president will be Tom Parnell of Newbern; vice-president will be Lawanna Walker of Savannah; and acting secretary will be Danny Kerr of Savannah. Rev. Sparks, the pastor of the church, will help the group as advisor. A transportation committee will be appointed each month to provide rides to church and fellowship meeting. Committee for the month of October will be Kay Kerr, Norma Schwamm, George Gossett, and Ancil Harville. It was decided that the program chairman would rotate, giving each person an opportunity to have a larger part in the group.

No name for the group has as yet been decided on, but this by no means affects the activeness of this group of students, who meet each Sunday night at 5:45 for supper and a fellowship hour. Certain aims and objectives have already been set and among these is the desire to bring together Presbyterian and other interested students at church as well as in school.

YF&H MEETS, OFFICERS NAMED FOR QUARTER

On Tuesday night, October 1, the Young Farmers and Homemakers met and elected officers for the Fall Quarter. The group elected a senior to the job of president of the organization and a very able one in Guy Ed Robbins. The officers elected to serve with him were: Vice-President, Larry Barber; Secretary-Treasurer, Patsy Jones; Reporter, Raymond Bryant; ASC Representative, Margaret Thompson; and Annual Staff Representative, Ann Cox.

The largest crowd present since the club was formed was present to elect these officers to lead the club the Fall Quarter. The members discussed the question of enlarging the membership of the club. It is the youngest club on the campus and it is desirous of increasing its membership. Membership is open to anyone interested in working and playing with others.

The club planned their social which will be held October 12. The social will consist of folk games and dances and other planned games. The regular meetings will be held every second Tuesday night of every month at 7 o'clock.

New Women's Residence Hall Is Campus' Newest Addition

By BARBARA BROOKS

Perhaps the topic of 90% of campus conversation these days is centered around the new Women's Residence Hall—a big, modern, and beautiful structure of which we, the girls at UTMB, especially, should be awfully proud. And we are very proud and elated over the fact that we have been given such a beautiful place in which to live during our stay at UTMB.

The girls who are returning for their second, third, and even fourth year are having quite a time adjusting to their new surroundings after enjoying the rustic hominess of Freeman, Reed, Oxford, and Lovelace Halls. The "under" classmen are so appalled at the fact that THEY are now in college, they are finding everything new and different, but like the rest of us, are amazed at the modern conveniences which are now being offered to us!

To get a general opinion of how the occupants of the new residence hall feel about their new "home" I have asked a cross section of the female portion of our campus to express their views on the subject.

Mary E. Grabel, sophomore—"Gee, it's big, isn't it? And SO dark after 11!" Eleanor Gresham, junior—"I wish I were married! I think it is going to take awhile to get used to all these modern conveniences, but it sure is pretty. The best thing about it, though, is that my mail box is close!"

Mary Farrar, freshman—"The building is awfully nice, but the spirit is not what I expected."

Charlotte Sullivan, sophomore transfer from Phoenix College, Arizona—"The facilities are just ideal and the only thing in question is how can people carrying 17 or more hours expect to get their studies done by 11?"

Barbara Johnson, freshman—"I like it; it's more modern than what I expected."

Doris Hettlinger, junior—"The building is just marvelous and so are all the modern conveniences. But it's still not like home."

Glenda Pritchett, sophomore—"It's a beautiful building, but it just doesn't have the right spirit."

Sandra Roush, junior—"The facilities are excellent, however, I think some of the rules and regulations are rather childish for young ladies from 18 to 22 years of age. Long distance phone calls are pretty important to me!"

Lawanna Walker, senior—"The building is beyond our dreams, but it will never compare with the homey atmosphere of the old dorms."

Faye Hunt, junior—"As far as the building goes, it's very nice, but I've never seen a more cold or indifferent atmosphere. Neither the rules, nor the atmosphere, resemble those of a home!"

Beverly Pouncey, freshman—"It's a very nice dorm, in fact one of the nicest I've ever seen, and it's one thing that made me decide to come to UTMB. I still haven't gotten around to meeting all the girls since it's so big."

beautiful building and the best part about it are those nice huge closets! I do get that 'cooped up' feeling with all the buzzers and burglar alarms. I much prefer the P.A. system, so I can get my important and long distance calls, even after 8 p.m."

Annette Corman, junior—"A hotel is nice to stay in for awhile. But when you are expecting a home away from home, this beautiful, modern building doesn't quite add up to that!"

In summing this up, the building is more than we ever hoped for, and dreamed of. The only sore spot with most of us has been with some of the rules and procedures being carried out thus far this year, which are entirely foreign to us. We feel that we should have been given a bigger share in the making of the rules and regulations by which we are to be abiding during the next nine months. People usually follow the rules which they, themselves, make!

Rules, as well as government, should be OF, BY, and FOR the people!!!

FREEMAN HALL BOYS ELECT DORM OFFICIALS

By WAYNE SHEADER
The boys of Freeman Hall met and elected officers on the night of September 24. Jere Taylor was elected president and Jerol Hopkins assisting as vice-president.

Billy Wall is going to handle the secretarial work, and also the money. Jimmy Dallas will represent us on the All-Students Club Council. Wayne Sheader is to attempt to write for us for the Volette.

The possibility of buying a TV set for our dorm was discussed and plans made toward such a project.

The boys have about settled down and started studying. Most coach for the coming year.

WILLIAM E. BAILEY, assistant professor of accounting, received the M.B.A. Degree from the University of Mississippi in 1955. He taught during the past school year at Memphis State. MISS VIRGIE HURST, supervisor of the Women's Residence Hall, received her M.S. Degree at the University of Tennessee this year. For the past seven years she has taught English and recently has served as dean of girls at Harrison-Chilhowee Academy near Knoxville. Miss Hurst served six years as teller at the Commercial National Bank, Anniston, Alabama. She also teaches freshman English.

New members of the ROTC staff are as follows: Capt. Robert L. Denilavez and Lt. James G. Richardson, assistant professors of M.S. and tactics, and Sgt. James S. Butler, chief administrative clerk.

Boys Now Residing In Old Dormitories

With the building of the new, modern girls' dorm an overall shift in housing occurred on the campus. Boys are once again living in Freeman and Reed Halls, and for the first time in Lovelace. Many people do not know that at one time both Freeman and Reed were boys' dorms.

At the time of their construction, Reed was for girls and Freeman for boys. This was even before the college became a part of the University of Tennessee and was still Hall-Moody College. They remained this way until the war when the Naval Flight Training Program was set up and took over both dorms. After the Navy moved out the boys were housed in the gym, in private homes, and various places until the temporary home, commonly known as the Wooden Box, was built about 1947. One quarter there were 383 boys living out in town.

When the Navy vacated the dorms both were used as girls' dorms. This year the girls have moved into the new dorm and the

of our dorm are freshmen, but there are a few upperclassmen to keep us hopping. Together we think it is going to be a good year and we will enjoy living in Freeman Hall.

boys are once again in the two smaller dorms. The basketball players formerly housed in the Patterson Cottage are now in Lovelace House. Mrs. Corum, who lived in Freeman last year, is still hostess there and Mrs. Campbell is acting as temporary hostess in Reed Hall.

Thus with the addition of the new dorm continues the cycle of home shifting on the campus.

UTMB SPORTS

Boost the Vols

Vols Open Season With 32-6 Win; Large Crowd Sees Victory

The Vols got the season off on the right foot with a resounding 32-6 win over a game but outmanned Marion Institute. The game was played on a fairly even keel, until the second half when the Vol manpower wore the visitors down. The largest opening night crowd in many years was on hand for the game.

UT scored once in the first, second, and fourth quarters and twice in the third. Marion never did threaten until connecting on one 83-yard play late in the final quarter. The Vol edge is shown by the first downs, with UT making 21 and Marion 3.

The Vol running attack was deadly. Fowler, Kendrick, McLaughlin, and Bayless led the way with Fowler outgaining the entire Marion team by a considerable amount while scoring two touchdowns. White, Kendrick, and Lashlee scored the other TDs, Lashlee's opening the scoring as the completion of a pass from Bayless.

Equally outstanding was the Vol defense. Marion's running game was practically non-existent as the Vol line broke up play after play, often throwing the ball-carrier for good sized losses.

First Quarter

Marion kicked off with Kendrick returning to the UT 28. On the first play, Fowler ran 20 yards. Three plays later Fowler made it another first on the Marion 47. UT finally punted out on the Marion 10. Unable to gain, M.I. punted to UT's 41 with McLaughlin returning to the M.I. 36. With 2 passes Bayless punted to the M.I. 16.

On 4th down M.I. punted to its 48 with Bayless returning to the 36. Fowler made it 1st on the 24. On 3rd down Bayless passed to Lashlee who took the ball on the 4 and ran across. The try for point by Lowe was wide. UT kicked off to Finley who returned from the 10 to his 35. UT recovered a M.I. fumble on the 31 as the quarter ended.

Second Quarter

Fowler went from the 31 to the 17 on two tries. M.I. held and took the ball on its 20. On 4th down M.I. punted with UT taking over on its own 36. UT was held and punted, the kick being returned to the M.I. 48. M.I. gained 9 yards and tried for a 1st down but failed with UT taking over on its own 44. On a series of running plays led by Fowler and Kendrick, UT went to the 7 from where Fowler plunged over for the 2nd touchdown. Lowe's try for point was blocked. Following an exchange of punts, Lane passed to Lashlee on the M.I. 15 as the half ended.

Third Quarter

M.I. received and on the second play Lane recovered an M.I. fumble on the M.I. 29. On the third play, Fowler ran 21 yards for the TD to make the score 18-0. Lowe's kick was good and UT led 19-0. The game settled down with UT making several threats while holding M.I. easily. After M.I. intercepted a Lane pass on the M.I. 15, M.I. fumbled and UT recovered on the 14th. Anderton went to the 3 on two tries and White plunged over from the 1. Lowe converted and UT led 26-0. M.I. made a 1st down on the UT 38 as the quarter ended.

Fourth Quarter

UT took over as 4 M.I. passes were incomplete. The Vols then went 62 yards for the final TD. Fowler, Kendrick, and Hipp led the drive with Kendrick going over from the 5.

Midway in the quarter M.I. made its only score. With the ball on the M.I. 12, Finley passed to Tate who took the ball on the UT 40 and ran the rest of the way. The play covered 88 yards.

With some 15 seconds left and the ball on the M.I. 9, Lowe tried a field goal from about the 24. The kick was straight but fell just short.

Looking at Sports

World Series Winner?

It is World Series "once again" at Yankee Stadium in New York. The Milwaukee Braves (National League) and the New York Yankees (American League) battle against each other for the first time in the World Series.

The Series is "routine" for the Yankee ball club which is well accustomed to the type baseball that the Series requires. Such Yankee players as Yogi Berra, Gil McDougald, Hank Bauer and Whitey Ford are tested men and play well under pressure such as the Series demands. Being a veteran ball club of the Series certainly has its advantages for the Yankee as they have proved this fact more than once and are confident that they can prove it again this time.

As for the Milwaukee Braves, their assets aren't as great as those of the Yankees although they show high spirit and great hopes for winning the 1957 Series. The Braves are backed with wit and confidence from their manager Fred Haney, and they have the support of many thousands from Milwaukee who have cheered the Braves to victory for the National League Pennant and are still behind them for the Series.

The Braves have shown great strength in the past season in pitching as well as powerful hitting. Their pitching aces, Spahn, Burdette, Conley and McMahon face the Yankees with the power that brought them the National League Pennant. With confidence equal to their power they feel sure of bringing the Series Pennant back to Milwaukee with the help of the hitting power of Aaron, Matthews, and Schoendienst.

As for the managers of these two teams competing for the Series, Casey Stengel, an old timer in baseball both as player and manager is pitching his wits as manager of the Yankees against Fred Haney, the chieftain of the Braves. Being a veteran of World Series baseball is a tremendous asset to Stengel as he knows his team and how they play under such pressure and other conditions of Series baseball. As for Haney, who has never played or managed in a Series, it is an entirely different story. This one handicap, as big or little as it may sound, could make a big difference in the final outcome of the 1957 Series. Haney is a solid man and stands firm in his belief and confidence that the Braves will win the Series.

However, there could not be much chance for mistakes when the polls favored the veteran Yankees 8-5 over the untested Milwaukee Braves.

Nevertheless, at the time of the publishing of this paper the one big question of "Who will be the winner of the 1957 World Series?" remains to be answered.

Women's Intramurals

By HARRIETTE LAVENUE

The purpose of the women's intramural program at UTMB is to provide an opportunity for every student to participate in the individual and team games of their choice. The Physical Education Department tries to choose those activities which will provide enjoyment for the student during her college career.

Each student is appointed to one of the eight color teams. She will remain a member of that team as long as she is a student at UTMB.

The point system is used in intramurals. For each team or individual sport the winner receives 2 points while the loser receives one. At the end of the year the sophomore girl having the most points for two years receives a trophy. The top five scorers for two years will receive a letter. Some of the high scoring girls who are returning as sophomores this year are: Carolyn McCorkle, Harriette Lavenue, Mary E. Grabel, Ann Coltrain and Johnnie Alexander.

Men and women color teams work together. At the end of the year the points are added, and the team with the highest number of points wins the title for that year. Last year Green team took top honors for the high point team with 1237 points. This is a new record for intramurals at UTMB. Runner-up was Brown team with 1131 points, another high for intramurals.

Freshmen and all other new students are in the process of being assigned to color teams.

Intramurals give you an opportunity to engage in wholesome games with a bit of competition added. When you are notified which team you are on try to support that team in all activities. The real reason—cause it's fun!

All four spoke briefly on various aspects of UTMB from the administrative, coaching, athletic, and student points of view.

Vols Down Arkansas In Offensive Thriller

The rampaging Vols made it two straight October 4 by downing Arkansas State B's 26-18. For the second time too the Vols scored in every quarter.

Once again Bobby Fowler, a ram-propelled fullback, was the offensive star in a game filled with stars. ALL FOWLER did was: carry the ball 25 times, gain 150 yards, and score 3 touchdowns, in an individual effort not soon to be forgotten.

Second most noteworthy effort must go to the alertness of the entire team. Arkansas State fumbled 4 times with UT recovering each (twice setting up scoring drives) and UT also intercepted an Arkansas pass to set up a third successful drive.

First Quarter

UT kicked off with the ball being returned to the A. 20. On the first play from scrimmage Richardson recovered an A. fumble on the A. 22. UT scored 5 plays later with Fowler going over from the 4. Lowe's try was blocked and UT led 6-0.

UT kicked off, the ball being returned to the A. 39. A. gained a 1st on the UT 48. Clark ran 42 yards to the UT 6, and on the next play Richardson again recovered an A. fumble on the 8. Bayless punted to the UT 49. A UT off-side on a 4th down punt gave A. another chance and they went the remaining 37 yards on 3 plays. The point was blocked with the score 6-6.

Second Quarter

A Bayless to Lashlee pass gave UT a 1st down on the A. 29, but a penalty ended the drive. A. took over and on the 1st play UT again recovered an A. fumble. Fowler and Bayless alternated to the 10 from where Fowler scored with Lowe converting to put UT ahead 13-6.

UT kicked off, A. returning to its own 31. On the first play Manderson passed to Kitchens, who took the ball on the A. 48 and ran the remaining 52 yards to score.

The point was blocked and UT led 13-12.

Third Quarter

A. kicked off. UT made one first down and then had to punt. On the second play Graves intercepted an A. pass on the A. 45 and went to the 25. Fowler and Bayless made a 1st down on the 13 but A. held on the 4. After A. gained to its 31 Kendrick intercepted a pass on the A. 38. Kendrick made a 1st down on the A. 27. Bayless passed to Lashlee for a 1st down on the 4 and Fowler plunged over. UT led 19-12.

Fourth Quarter

After Dyer recovered an A. fumble on the UT 39 the teams exchanged punts with UT getting the ball on its own. 35. Fowler gained 10 and after a 15 yard penalty against UT Fowler ran 41 yards to the A. 24. After Bayless lost 10 yards, he passed to Lashlee for a 1st down on the A. 4. Bayless scored on a keeper play and Lowe converted to make it 26-12. A. took the kickoff on its 32 and on 10 plays went 68 yards to make the score 26-18.

The club held its first meeting October 1. Several new members were welcomed into the club at that time, and plans for the year were discussed.

To Lead 1957 Vol Gridders

CAPTAIN HUGH LASHLEE

CO-CAPTAIN BOBBY KENDRICK

Lashlee, Kendrick Are Vol Captains

Hugh Lashlee and Bobby Kendrick have been elected to lead the UTMB Vols for the 1957 season. The team responded to their captains' able leadership as they took their first game from Marion Institute. Both of the commissioned officers played their usual energetic and fine game.

Lashlee played in the Junior College All-American game last year. Lashlee, a 5 foot, 9 1/2 inch, 160 pound junior, is an end. Most of his three years at UTMB have been spent as a starter on the eleven. A good blocker and pass receiver are only two of his strong points. Offense is only half of the game, but Lashlee has the other half as he is an equally good defensive man. Camden is the home of Captain Lashlee.

Kendrick, also a junior, stands 5 feet, 8 inches and weighs 156 pounds. Kendrick plays left halfback and has been a starter most of his three years on the Orange campus. In this boy you find a strong heart and a speedy, shifty runner. Not only does he show his heels to the opposing defense, but he nails many of their offensive players to the ground with his good defense. Captain Kendrick hails from Brownsville.
